The logo for Resilient Washington State features a green silhouette of the state of Washington. Overlaid on the map is a white seismic wave line and a small icon of a building. The text 'WASHINGTON STATE Seismic Safety Committee Emergency Management Council' is positioned above the map, and 'Resilient Washington State' is written in large white letters at the top. Below the map, the text 'A Framework for Minimizing Loss and Improving Statewide Recovery after an Earthquake' is written in white, and 'November 2012' is at the bottom right.
